

The background of the entire page is a close-up photograph of numerous yellow marigold flowers. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, with some showing vibrant yellow centers and others appearing more faded. The green foliage of the plants is visible between the flowers. The overall lighting is soft, creating a gentle contrast between the bright yellow of the petals and the dark, almost black, background.

BRAND PLATFORM: FOR MOMENT MAKERS

At Fig & Bloom, we are here for moment makers—those who celebrate beauty, connection, and the everyday ritual of living well. This includes gift givers, dinner hosts, home stylists, ritual keepers, and unapologetic self-indulgers. Whether arranging a spring tablescape, sending a bouquet of 'just because' peonies, or lighting a candle as the sun sets—our audience is united by a shared philosophy:

live beautifully, love intentionally,
make the most of every moment.

"For moment makers" isn't a slogan—it's a lens. It reflects our customer's identity, invites aspiration, and signals belonging. In it, our customer sees themselves as the main character of a thoughtfully designed life. They feel seen, reflected, and inspired.

BRAND EVOLUTION

Fig & Bloom is no longer just a premium florist. We're becoming a design-led consumer brand that sits at the intersection of florals, home ambiance, wellness, and emotional self-expression. Our expanded offering—candles, rituals, stationery, styling kits, teas, and more—is curated to support a lifestyle, not just a purchase. We're building moments of presence, indulgence, and joy across multiple touchpoints in a customer's week—not just on special occasions.

FROM –

A gifting utility delivering flowers for birthdays and apologies.

EVOLVING TO –

A lifestyle ecosystem that invites beauty, presence, and emotional depth into every day.

Brand Overview

MISSION

To design and deliver emotionally resonant products that turn everyday routines into meaningful rituals—for those who give, host, create, and care.

VISION

To shape a world where beauty is a daily practice, gifting is a shared language, and every moment—no matter how small—is an opportunity for presence, connection, and style.

UNIQUE VALUE PROPOSITION

We craft design-forward products that delight the senses and elevate everyday living—for the giver, the receiver, and the self.

Where others offer utility or target rational product benefits (eg. cheap, fast, lasts), we offer emotion. Where others deliver commodities, we deliver moments. Our thoughtful expansion into scent, wellness, stationery, and styling isn't an add-on—it's a natural extension of our brand DNA, led by customer desire for indulgence, ambience, and meaning .

Brand Overview

BRAND PERSONALITY

Intentional

Nothing is random. Every bouquet, scent, card, and object is designed with care.

Refined, not fussy

We channel timeless elegance through modern, minimal forms.

Human, not automated

Warmth, empathy, and delight are built into every customer interaction.

Joyful and aspirational

We champion beauty, not perfection; moments, not milestones.

MARKET POSITIONING

Fig & Bloom is positioning itself as a modern accessible luxury lifestyle brand that begins with flowers—and expands into self-gifting, hosting, wellness, and home styling. We speak to urban professionals who crave more than function; they want their life to feel beautiful, composed, and emotionally rich.

We aim to be their:

- Mid-week pick-me-up
- Go-to dinner party upgrade
- Selfie-worthy indulgence
- Modern ritual companion

The petals are layered and detailed, showing natural textures. The background is softly blurred, focusing attention on the flowers and the overlaid text.

Target Audience

Target Audience

OVERVIEW

The Fig & Bloom customer is a modern aesthete: emotionally expressive, design-conscious, and deeply present. They believe in marking moments—big and small—with intention and style. Whether sending a bouquet to celebrate, styling a space to elevate a vibe, or indulging in a self-care ritual, they choose Fig & Bloom because it reflects who they are: generous, detail-loving, and aesthetically attuned.

This audience doesn't just want products—they want emotionally resonant experiences. They are willing to spend more for products that feel designed, considered, and personal.

PRIMARY PERSONAS

We've defined six core customer personas based on motivation, context, and usage behavior. These allow us to craft specific messaging, offers, and content that reflects and activates each mindset:

- Gratitude Expressor
- Romantic Giver
- Self-care Enthusiast
- Thoughtful Gift Giver
- Space Transformer
- Host / Event Organiser
- Corporate Client Buyer

Target Audience

DEMOGRAPHIC PROFILE

Key data driven insights allow us to paint a clear picture of our demographics, as well as highlighting potential opportunities:

Gender:	70% female, 30% male
Age:	Primarily 25–44
Income:	Mid-to-high disposable income; top 20% of earners
Life stage:	Predominantly single or partnered, some starting families
Education:	University-educated
Location:	Core flower delivery zones: Sydney, Melbourne, Brisbane (metro). Growth opportunity: Perth, Adelaide, Newcastle, and regional areas (via non-perishable SKUs)

PSYCHOGRAPHICS

Our audience isn't just buying for function—they're buying for identity and experience. We use messaging and visuals that resonate with these traits:

Aesthetic lifestyle	Curates their home, outfits, and rituals with visual harmony
Emotionally expressive	Uses gifting to communicate love, care, gratitude, and presence
Wellness-oriented	Practices self-care, mindfulness, or ritual-based living
Socially generous	Takes joy in making others feel special—often “the one who remembers” birthdays
Detail-devoted	Notices packaging, scent layers, styling, typography—cares about the finish
Aspiration-driven	Wants to live the beautiful life—Fig & Bloom affirms and elevates that identity

A close-up photograph of several large, fully bloomed pink peonies. The flowers are densely packed with ruffled petals, showing a range of pink hues from pale to deep magenta. They are contained within a rustic wooden box, with the natural grain of the wood visible in the corners and along the edges. The lighting is soft and directional, highlighting the texture of the petals and creating subtle shadows. The overall mood is elegant and romantic.

Logos

Logos

PRIMARY LOGO

Minimal and Contemporary.

Dramatic black and white treatment, with the logo taking precedence as the graphic element.

This is the primary form of the logo and should be used the first choice when creating branded materials.

Logo should be used in black or white to ensure highest contrast and readability - following the clearance space and minimum size as shown.

A close-up photograph of blue hydrangea flowers. The flowers are in various stages of bloom, with some showing individual petals and others as dense clusters. The color is a deep, slightly muted blue. The background is blurred, showing more flowers and foliage. Overlaid on the center of the image is the text "Using the Brand" in a white, serif font. The word "Using" is on the top line, and "the Brand" is on the bottom line, with "the" in a smaller font size than "Brand".

LOGO USAGE

The Do's and the Don't's.

Please use the master digital files to avoid mistakes and to ensure the integrity of the visual identity is maintained. Do not place the logo in any of the ways indicated here as this could diminish the integrity of the brand. Do not recolour, stretch, mask or tilt the logo in any way.

When using the tagline versions of the logos, please use the largest possible when working at small scales (without over crowding the branding) to ensure readability. Avoid breaking the tagline off the logo and using it separately or in lieu of the logo – they should always be paired.

Don't recolour the logo

Don't rearrange the tagline & logo

Don't crop or cut off the logo

Don't add effects or drop shadows

Don't rotate the logo

Don't use on busy or unreadable images

Don't skew or warp the logo

Don't use the lower contrast option

Don't change the tagline

Using The Brand

COLOUR PALETTE

The key brand colour palette is monochromatic and should remain in high contrast, black and white for maximum impact and to reiterate the brand position.

Campaigns can have colours or foil finishes introduced to further reiterate a product, holiday or flower; as well as seasonal highlight colours added to the website. Additional new colours should be complimentary to the elevated position of the brand and resonate with both customers and also reflect the product or season being featured.

ILLUSTRATIONS

The line drawing style to be used should be single line, emotive, romantic style drawings. Ideal the style should be in mono-line, with no lifting of the pen.

A thin swirling style will help create the emotive and romantic feel with these illustrations. Ideally there is some literal element with the illustrations, however they do not have to be realistic. Some illustrations include a hand holding a pot (very literal) to faces that morph into branches or flowers (for a more dream-scape style).

On packaging for plant and edible collections we have also used more textural black and white elements (such as swirling, abstract liquid textures for the chocolates).

Illustrations and artistic elements should be used in black and white only, unless in foils and finishes for greeting cards and specialty packaging.

Using The Brand

PHOTOGRAPHY

The floral arrangements should be the main subject matter. Use light, airy and simple backgrounds to ensure attention is drawn to the florals.

Using people and hands gives a caring, personal touch as well as a point of scale, but ensure they are not engaging the camera, and are not the focal point of the image. Avoid distracting text overlays, and keep it simple.
